KIKER MORROW FINKELL FOUNDATION FOR CANCER CARE

The founder of Emily Morrow Home, Emily Morrow Finkell, has a beautiful story rooted in faith, family, resilience, and survival. Last October marked Emily’s 10-year anniversary as being cancer-free. She credits her mental and physical victory over cancer to the amazing support of her family, dear friends, and community.

When Emily was diagnosed with breast cancer, she was a 35-year-old single mother of two. During this season, Emily balanced a demanding corporate career while caring for her young children and herself during the harrowing treatment. While it was the most challenging time in her life, Emily’s faith in Christ and appreciation for her family grew significantly. Emily emerged healthy and stronger than ever.

To commemorate her cancer-free anniversary, Emily founded the Kiker Morrow Finkell Foundation for Cancer Care. This nonprofit was established to support others battling cancer in their time of need, whether it’s receiving a makeover in the midst of chemotherapy, to inspire confidence, or helping a mother provide Christmas gifts for her family as Emily’s own mother did for her.

For Emily, the Foundation is about giving back in sincere and deep gratitude for the gifts she was granted. A portion of the profits from Emily Morrow Home products are donated to the Foundation, so with each purchase our customers are helping to give back as well. The Foundation embodies the heart and purpose behind Emily Morrow Home.

“This time of year, when the leaves are falling along with the temperatures and we see the beginnings of Christmas here and there, I am acutely reminded of the gift I’ve been given. As with all gifts, there comes some level of responsibility and when the gift is ‘life,’ the responsibility is the greatest. Fifteen years ago, many of my friends knew of my breast cancer diagnosis and journey to wellness.” — Emily Morrow Finkell
